for a growing store.

FAJ Trading's previous website made it difficult for customers to find products, compare options, and complete their purchase. With a large and diverse product catalog, the experience felt cluttered, inconsistent, and not optimized for today's online shoppers.

THE RESULT

Users struggled to quickly find what they needed, leading to lower engagement, missed sales opportunities, and an overall frustrating shopping experience.

engaging shopping experience.

Redesign a complete e-commerce experience for FAJ Trading — from the homepage to checkout — that makes it easier for customers to discover products, build trust, and complete their purchase with confidence.

01

Simplify product discovery
Help customers find the right appliances, coffee machines, and spare parts quickly and easily.

02

Improve the overall shopping experience
Create a cleaner, more modern and user-friendly interface across all devices.

03

Drive higher engagement and conversions
Highlight key categories, offers and product information to support smarter purchasing decisions.

KEY CONSTRAINT

Redesign the entire website while maintaining business continuity, ensuring a smooth transition without disrupting existing customers.

4/14

A streamlined shopping experience designed to help users easily find products, make a purchase, and manage their orders — from first visit to after-sales support.

including product discovery, account creation, checkout, order tracking, and support.

Weak visual hierarchy
Multiple banners and sections make it hard to find the main focus.

Poor category organization
Categories are not well structured and feel overwhelming.

Too many competing sections
Numerous product blocks, banners and carousels create visual noise.

Inconsistent spacing
Uneven padding and layout breaks the visual flow.

Unclear CTA structure
Multiple CTAs with no clear primary action.

UX/UI CASE STUDY

The Old Website Had Too Many UX Issues

The previous FAJ Trading L.L.C. website contained multiple UI and UX discrepancies — from a cluttered layout and weak visual hierarchy to poor category organization and overwhelming content density. The redesign fixed these issues with a cleaner structure, better browsing experience, and improved visual clarity.
